

Addressing Forced Labour and Human Trafficking in UN Supply Chains

What would you do?

Resources

- 1 Training for internal staff (legal, program, procurement, etc.) on combating human trafficking and forced labour in supply chains
- 2 Comprehensive guidance for internal staff on how to combat this risk at all stages of the procurement cycle
- 3 UN Supplier Code of Conduct including commitments to address the risk of human trafficking and forced labour in supply chains
- 4 Operational Indicators of Human Trafficking and Forced Labour to support identification and addressing of cases

Guidance resources are accessible to any staff member of an HLCM-PN organization.

Training

Guidance

The following resources are available publicly.

Supplier Code of Conduct

Indicators

For more information, please contact your organization's Task Force Representative or the Task Force Secretariat:

- TF Secretariat (tfsecretariat@osce.org)