Who are we?

Our Motto:

Working together for a world free of chemical weapons

OPCW's Mandate

The OPCW is an independent, autonomous international organisation with a working relationship with the United Nations.

The main function of the Organisation is to ensure the implementations of the provisions established in the Chemical Weapons Convention (CWC).

OPCW's Responsibilities

OPCW assists the Conference of the States Parties and the Executive Council in the performance of their functions.

Some of these responsibilities are:

- ensuring the chemical destruction carried out as per the Convention;
- verifying the activities in the chemical industry;
- providing international cooperation and assistance for the State Parties;
- coordinating the maintenance of emergency stockpiles and humanitarian assistance;
- facilitating the advocacy and educational outreach.

Procurement's Mission

Our objective is to procure goods and services to meet the requirement of users, this means getting our internal customer -

- the right product
 - at the right time
 - at the right place
 - at the right price

- Procurement functions include all actions necessary for the acquisition, by purchase, rental or lease, of property, including products and real property, and of services, including works and professional services in the form of consultancies, but excluding staff contracts.
