BACKGROUND AND JUSTIFICATION

Children with disabilities remain as one of the most marginalized categories of children in Tajikistan, although the Government has taken a number of important steps to protect their rights. According to official statistics, more than 26,300 children with disabilities (under the age of 18) are registered and have access to disability benefits from the Government. This is about 0.7% of the child population in Tajikistan. Given the global estimates of childhood disability being around 3 to 5 per cent, this is a gross underestimate. Many causes of disability are related to perinatal and neonatal conditions # i.e., disabilities detectable at very young age: Some health conditions associated with disability may be detected during pregnancy where there is access to prenatal screening, while other impairments may be identified during or after birth. However, early identification and comprehensive cross-sectoral responses to address these conditions remain largely unavailable in Tajikistan.

Historically, the Medical Pedagogical Commissions (MPC) in Soviet era focused on screening of children for the purpose of deciding whether they are #fit# to study in regular schools or to be institutionalised. Promoting the rights of children with disabilities for inclusion, in 2006, UNICEF initiated its support to the Government in transforming MPC into PMPC (Psychological Medical Pedagogical Consultation), which operates out of a local policlinic to assess children, identify their disabilities, develop an individual plan for each child with disability, provide short term rehabilitation, and refer children to different service providers in the area. Currently 10 PMPCs are operating all over the country and this number is not sufficient to address the needs of children with disabilities (CWD) countrywide.

Besides that since 2010 as a result of effective cooperation between the public/international organizations and government of Tajikistan the first rooms on early intervention have been established in the health centers. At the same time, with support from Caritas Germany and Open Society Institute (OSI) consultants from Israel, Germany and Austria were invited to provide training for local experts on early intervention programs. Currently Caritas Germany, Mission East and Operations Mercy continue implementing their Community Based Rehabilitation (CBR) program, to improve access to quality community-based rehabilitation services for people with disabilities. An important component of Caritas Germany CBR program is the organization of an early detection and early intervention services for children with developmental delays. Moreover, with support from OSI, NGO Ranginkamon initiated establishment of a coordination council on early intervention as a public private partnership with involvement of civil society for effective implementation of services for children with developmental delays at early age.

In 2015, UNICEF provided technical assistance through international consultancy to support the Government in identifying a system of early detection and early intervention services for children with developmental delays. Following this, in 2016, UNICEF and MoHSPP initiated establishment of early detection and early intervention (ED/EI) working group consisting of the MoHSPP, Medical University, National and Oblast (Kurgon-teppa) PMPCs, UNICEF, Caritas Germany, OSI, and IRODA. As a result, the group developed a checklist for monitoring of developmental milestones, a training package and guidance for Primary Health Care (PHC) and other community workers on early detection, which is currently with the MoHSPP for approval.

Since 2015, UNICEF has been supporting Rasht Local Authority to ensure that the Social Assistance at Home Unit (SAHU) is officially set up and effectively deliver its functions towards assisting the most vulnerable children, focusing primarily on CWD and children at risk of being placed in institutions. Currently, six SAHU staff are providing home-based care to CWD and children in poor households. In addition, the Day Care Centre functioning in Rasht currently provides service for 44 children with disabilities. In 2017, UNICEF implemented CBR project in Rasht district covering eight jamoats and provided various services to 120 CWD, out of which 62 are girls. The services included physiotherapy, counselling, and para-legal advice on how to apply for the disability benefit, and how to enroll their children with disabilities in schools.

It is worth noting that UNICEF contributed to developing alternative Early Childhood Education (ECE) centres in the country since 2010. Currently it supports 240 school-based ECE centres in rural areas. These centres reach 6000 children annually, incuding children with disabilities and provide spaces for communities of diverse backgrounds to come together and have constructive dialogue and interaction around young children's development.

Against this background, UNICEF seeks for an international expert institution to provide technical guidance/assistance to MoHSPP in piloting a child/family focused multi-sectoral Early Detection and Early Intervention (EDEI) model in Rasht district and Kurgon-teppa city in a more systematic and cross-sectoral manner.

OBJECTIVES
The proposed consultancy aims to assist the MoHSPP in designing, planning, implementation and monitoring of EDEI pilot interventions in Kurgon-teppa and Rasht districts, and thereby testing / creating an ED/EI model, which can be integrated into the existing systems of health, education, and social protection sectors, for sustainable scale-up in future. In this process, the contracted international institution is expected to assist, amongst all, in: finalization and harmonization of ED/EI tools in full alignment with the International Classification of Functioning, Disability and Health (ICF) for use at regional or national level; and operationalisation (and adaptation, as necessary) of the developed tools and organisation of service delivery system (i.e., model building), taking into account the available resources and the capacity of the relevant Government structures.

If the breaching Party does not remedy the breach within the thirty (30) days period or if the breach is not capable of remedy, the non-breaching Party can terminate the Contract. The termination will be effective thirty (30) days after the non-breaching Party gives the breaching Party written notice of termination. The termination of cancellation or arbitral proceedings in accordance with Article 9 (Privileges and Immunities; Settlement of Disputes) below will not be grounds for termination of the Contract.

Additional Termination Rights of UNICEF

6.2 In addition to the termination rights under Article 6.1 above, UNICEF can terminate the Contract with immediate effect upon delivery of a written notice of termination, without any liability for termination charges or any other liability of any kind:

UNICEF can also terminate the Contract on thirty (30) day's written notice to the Contractor without having to provide any justification.

In addition, the Contractor will use any other action that may be necessary, or that UNICEF may direct in writing, in order to minimize losses or protect and preserve any property, whether tangible or intangible, related to the Contract that is in the possession of the Contractor and in which UNICEF has or may be reasonably expected to acquire an interest.

6.5 If the Contract is terminated by either Party, the Contractor will immediately deliver to UNICEF any finished work which has not been delivered and accepted prior to the receipt of a notice of termination, together with any data, materials or work-in-process related specifically to the Contract. If UNICEF obtains the assistance of another party to continue the Services or complete any unfinished work, the Contractor will provide its reasonable cooperation to UNICEF and such party in the orderly migration of Services and transfer of any Contract-related data, materials and work-in-process. The Contractor will at the same time return to UNICEF all of UNICEF's Confidential Information and will transfer to UNICEF all intellectual and other proprietary information in accordance with Article 5.

6.6 If the Contract is terminated by either Party no payment will be due from UNICEF to the Contractor except for Services and Deliverables provided to UNICEF's satisfaction in accordance with the Contract, but only if such Services and Deliverables were required or requested before the Contractor's receipt of the notice of termination or, in the case of termination by the Contractor, the effective date of such termination.
